
Homespire mortgage

Homespire Mortgage Leverages Polly's Cloud-native Technology to Streamline and Transform Processes, Driving Operational Excellence

/ COMPANY PROFILE

Headquartered in Maryland and operating throughout the United States, Homespire Mortgage is an award-winning mortgage lender that is focused on facilitating worry- and hassle-free mortgage experiences for borrowers. It provides a wide range of loan and refinancing options for every situation – including FHA, Fixed Rate, ARM, VA, USDA, Renovation, Jumbo, Cash-out Refinance, and more. These deliver personalized quotes that open the doors of homeownership, helping prospective and existing homeowners find the mortgage that is right for them.

/ OVERVIEW

Despite significant growth in recent years, Homespire Mortgage's loan officers were constrained by inefficient and time-consuming manual processes. This challenge drove the executive team to seek out a robust technical infrastructure that could streamline and optimize key workflows while empowering the company to better meet the evolving needs of its borrowers.

That's where Polly's cloud-native, mobile-responsive technology delivered, providing a significant upgrade from Homespire Mortgage's legacy solution. With flexible, intelligent automation and seamless integrations, the company's capital market and secondary teams could work smarter, faster, and more efficiently.

/ RESULTS

- Reduced administrative burden, enabling secondary and LO teams to focus on strategic initiatives
- Saved approximately 1.5 hours of configuration time per day across 150 users
- Optimized the loan sale and settlement cycle, resulting in overall time savings of 42%
- Increased profitability by 12%

/ THE DETAILS

Optimizing critical processes

It's Homespire Mortgage's mission to help homebuyers and investors responsibly and affordably finance their dream of homeownership, while delivering an exceptional mortgage experience that borrowers trust, realtors recommend, and employees take pride in. The company takes the time to build valued relationships with its customers to deliver a true, people-first service experience that prioritizes speed and accuracy.

Homespire Mortgage recognized that its legacy solution was delivering a cumbersome and overly complicated experience for its loan officers. Their desire to transform into a modern, powerful, and intelligent infrastructure thus demanded a high degree of manual intervention, needlessly extending workflows, increasing the risk of human error, and hindering users' ability to deliver an efficient service experience. The company's reliance on these labor-intensive manual workflows had a direct impact on profitability and business growth. To solve for these pain points and optimize its digital mortgage operations beyond the limitations of its legacy solution, Homespire Mortgage turned to Polly's modern, cloud-native Product and Pricing Engine (PPE) and Loan Trading Exchange.

With Polly, Homespire Mortgage has been able to significantly streamline processes and boost efficiencies throughout the organization to deliver a better customer experience. The new infrastructure has considerably reduced the number of steps and touchpoints within the loan lifecycle workflow, cutting out unnecessary processes. Previously, all loan edits and lock change requests had to go through multiple teams. Now, with the power of automation, the administrative burden has been eliminated, freeing up team members to focus on other strategic activities.

"Before implementing Polly, we found ourselves in a situation where we had to touch every loan multiple times across disparate systems," explained Stephanie Sailor, Vice President of Secondary Marketing at Homespire Mortgage. "There was no seamless back and forth between systems and teams. Now, the entire workflow has been completely transformed. Our loan officers can quickly and easily make lock change requests and edit loans all within one unified, integrated solution. It's really exciting for them and has resulted in a massive productivity boost for our organization."

Not only has optimizing these processes provided full transparency across Homespire Mortgage's operations, but it's also enhanced loan officers' ability to get their customers the best possible rates. Furthermore, it has increased efficiencies throughout the loan sale and settlement cycle, delivering significant time savings of 42% and enabling Homespire Mortgage to keep pace with market developments."Polly has saved us a ton of time and enabled us to be more strategic with our resources," added Sailor. "It's not just me and my team, it's every user. We have 150 loan officers across the business today, so that's 150 people whose processes have become incredibly seamless and efficient. This business is all about timing, so the impact on our operations has been huge."

Our loan officers can quickly and easily make lock change requests and edit loans all within one unified, integrated solution. It's really exciting for them and has resulted in a massive productivity boost.

Stephanie Sailor,
Vice President of Secondary Marketing at Homespire Mortgage

> Customizing platforms can often be a challenge… but Polly has made everything so simple. The product's usability is second-to-none. As well as making our lives significantly easier, this has helped us deliver greater value to our customers.

Simplifying back-end configuration

System configuration was another key area of frustration for Homespire Mortgage with its legacy solution. Pre-transition, activities such as running scenarios, managing rules, and experimenting with new filters were overly complicated and mentally taxing. They required deep technical knowledge that only certain team members possessed, hindering their ability to remain agile and move quickly with the market.

Polly's solution significantly reduced this configuration time. Homespire Mortgage's team can now effortlessly configure rules and quickly distribute unique pricing across all channels to help them stay ahead of the competition and ultimately, win more business. They can identify best execution bids with advanced filters, compare multiple price loan scenarios, and build new filters as needed. Polly's intuitive rule management capabilities make it simple for the everyday user to make intricate changes – without having to be a technical expert.

This enhancement has saved the company approximately 1.5 hours per day across 150 users, and helped increase profitability by 12%. Ultimately, Polly has delivered the level of customization, configurability, and flexibility that Homespire Mortgage requires to continue meeting borrower needs and driving business growth.

Sailor said: "Configuring and customizing platforms can often be a challenge in this industry, but Polly has made everything so simple. The product's usability is second-to-none. People could walk in with very little programming or configuration knowledge and work within the tool very effectively. As well as making our lives significantly easier, this has helped us deliver greater value to our customers."

Building a lasting partnership

At its core, Polly possesses an ethos of delivering constant and consistent innovation, seamless implementation and onboarding, and ongoing customer partner success. Since the company's inception, its commitment to superior service has been unwavering. This dedication has been a key component of its relationship with Homespire Mortgage.

Polly worked closely and collaboratively with the Homespire Mortgage team to help them maximize ROI from both the PPE and Loan Trading Exchange solutions. This has included delivering one-to-one training sessions, customizing workflows for specific borrower needs, and helping the company drive a mindset of digital transformation – all with the goal of supporting substantial business growth.

"Speaking regularly to industry peers, I know that many people have felt neglected in terms of customer service. But the support we have received from Polly has been exemplary," concluded Sailor. "Every time we reach out, the team answers our questions straight away. They always take our feedback into consideration and have been extremely accommodating in either adding to the platform or helping us digest data in new ways. I know that the team will be there to provide support as our business continues to evolve."

"If there is one thing that our customer partners can be sure of, it's that Polly will always – always – work with you to ensure that our solution is right for your business. That unyielding dedication to long-term customer success is at our core and it is something that we pride ourselves on," explained Adam Carmel, Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Polly. "This is also what has enabled us to build such a strong partnership with Homespire Mortgage. They continue to push the boundaries of what is possible with technology across the mortgage vertical and their growth is a strong testament to that. Polly is proud to deliver the best technology and highest degree of service to Homespire Mortgage along that journey."

/ CONTACT

sales@polly.io | polly.io

© Polly. All rights reserved.